

Let's Restore History

McLoud Home Economics Cottage in the 1940's

The McLoud Chamber of Commerce, McLoud Public Schools, City of McLoud and the McLoud Historical Society have combined efforts to preserve memories with the restoration of the last of the early days school buildings: The Home Economics Cottage.

The building had to be moved from it's location on school grounds to make room for a new early childhood development center. To avoid destruction the above groups joined forces and have begun fundraising efforts to renovate the building taking it back as close as possible to it's original appearance. Once the building is complete it will be used as a Chamber of Commerce office as well as a community center for other events and activities.
